H. C. O. L. GETS ANOTHER JOLT AS PRICES FALL

Food is Now Settling Pace in Downward Sweep of Commodity Costs.

PREDICT MORE BREAKS

Government Officials Say Price
Decline is Only Just Starting.

(By Ralph F. Couch)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Food is now loading all other necessities in the downward sweep of prices.

The level of prices paid farmers for their products declined 15.6 per cent
during September, according to reports to the agriculture department
covering the entire country.

Consumers already have begun to benefit from this sweeping decline,
other reports show.

Prices paid the farmer on October 1
throughout the United States averaged, according to the agriculture department:

White potatoes $1.35 per bushel;
sweet potatoes $1.61 per bushel; apples $1.33 per bushel; butter 51.1 cents
per pound; eggs 50.1 cents per dozen;
chickens 25.4 cents per pound, and wheat 23.4 per bushel.

Retail prices of clothing and more than 250 other commodities still are on the down grade, government reports show.

Numerous expressions of opinion by high government officials indicate price declines are expected to be regarded as the beginning of a permanent decline in the general cost of living.

Secretary of the Treasury Houston is one who believes the crest of high prices has been reached. It may take years, however, for the general decline
to complete its cycle, Houston said.

Governor Harding of the federal reserve board, is another official who has declared the decline is a permanent beginning of declines in prices.
Value of the dollar has increased nearly 18 cents, government records show.
The dollar is worth approximately 55
cents compared with its pre-war 1914 purchasing power. Two months ago
the dollar stood for only 37 cents.

Chicago Prices Fall

Chicago.—Commodities affected here by the price cuttings were sweeping the country, include practically all essentials for eating and wearing, according to merchants today.

Commodities which experienced declines include:
Butter, down six cents; eggs, one cent; potatoes, 50 cents a bushel;
sugar, one cent a pound; coal, 54
cents to $1 a ton at terminals; clothing, 20 to 40 per cent; pianos, 10
to 25 per cent.

No Slump in West

San Francisco.—Although a number of commodities have been affected by the downward trend of prices reported in the east, the price cutting has not become general here, according to merchants.

Frank R. Connolly, secretary of the Retail Grocers' association, said he expected more general drops in food prices soon. Thus far, however, sugar, coffee and cereals with a few less important products, have been principally affected. Sugar has dropped fifty per cent in the last two months.

Clothing men reported no important
recent price reductions.

Eggs retailed here today as high as 84 cents under the influence of a recent upward trend. Butter dropped two cents last week.

ARREST WHOLESALER FOR BOOZE RUNNERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Investigation of an alleged million dollar booze ring operating with headquarters here, led to the arrest today of Joseph Salter, alleged distributor for the wholesale bootleggers.

With Salter's arrest police confiscated one hundred cases of liquor and obtained papers which they declared would result in wholesale arrests. Two raids on alleged bootleggers followed the arrest.

SEES ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE OF SUGAR

By United Press Leased Wire
Pittsburg.—Sugar, now selling at an average of 12 cents a pound, is due for a further drop, the purchasing agent of Donohoe's Inc., operating a chain of stores here, said today.

"Two months ago this product sold in many local stores at 35 cents a pound.

Groceries are on the decline but many goods with the exception of to-baccoes, which dropped approximately 15 per cent, are not expected to decrease in prices.

Navv and lima beans have dropped more than 30 per cent in the last month. The small beans average 7 cents a pound now.

HAITI KILLINGS GET IN CAMPAIGN

Congressional Probe of Cruelty
Charges May Be Started
Soon.

(By A. L. Bradford)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The naval board of inquiry named to investigate
"indiscriminate killings" by marines will go to the island, Secretary Daniels announced today.

First meetings of the board will be in Washington and General Barnett, former marine commandant who made the charge of "indiscriminate killings," probably will be one of the first witnesses.

He is due in Washington today having been ordered here by Daniels while on his way to his station on the Pacific coast.

Washington.—The charge by General George Barnett, of "indiscriminate killings" of Haitians by American marines will be the subject of a thorough investigation by congress, it was confidently believed here today.

Further disclosures also are expected to develop rapidly in the investigation which Secretary of Navy Daniels has ordered into the marine corps' occupation of Haiti.

Barnett's charge is expected to be thrown immediately into the presidential campaign. Senator Harding, the republican nominee, recently launched vigorous criticism of the marine occupation of Haiti.

A mystery which has developed out of the situation is the disappearance of a report from Col. Russell, commanding the marines in Haiti, on the investigation ordered by Barnett of the "indiscriminate killings."

Russell declared he mailed the report last March. Barnett and Daniels said they never received it.

Although Barnett in his letter to Russell calling for an investigation,
said:

"Indiscriminate killing has been going on for some time." Secretary Daniels declared there had only been six or seven illegal executions. Daniels also declared the Barnett report was his first intimation that there had been a charge of "indiscriminate killings."

Col. Russell, in his report on his investigation of the "indiscriminate killings" named Maj. Clark H. Wells, former gendarmerie department commander in north Haiti as being responsible for the conditions in northern Haiti. Wells was said to be under arrest in Haiti.

FARMERS CARRY CREDIT APPEAL TO U. S. BANKERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—Representatives of more than 20 national farm organizations today were replying demands for extension of credits to be placed before the nation's bankers at the meeting of the American Bankers' association here next week.

The demands are being framed by a special committee of farmers including:

Secretary Charles A. Lyman, of the national board of farm organizations;
R. M. Barton, of Washington, D. C.,
and J. S. Wainwright, of South Carolina, president of the American Cotton Growers' association.

Farmers declare they must have increased credit facilities as they need not be forced to sell their crops at present prices all of which they declare are below production costs.

COX PROMISES WOMEN BIGGER PART IN RULE

Democrat Attacks Congress for Failing to Enact Welfare Legislation.

WANTS WOMEN TO MEET
Cox Declares Women Should Formulate Program for Social Progress.

(By Herbert W. Walker)
By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, Ohio.—Governor James
M. Cox promised here today if elected he will ask representatives of all women's organizations to hold a national meeting and formulate "a program of human welfare and social progress" for congressional and executive action.

Speaking before a non-partisan organization of Cleveland women, the democratic candidate attacked the republican senate for being so interested in "scrapping the league" that it neglected questions of public welfare. He charged out of total appropriation of $5,500,000,000 by the congress only 1.01
per cent was allotted to welfare and development purposes.

The governor left the inference he favored a federal department of education and health, by saying "equal consideration with labor" should be given these two features of public life
by the federal government. He declared in favor of a federal bureau of Americanization to cope with the status in educating millions.

"The surest safety valve for law and order is to teach foreigners our language, to treat them justly and to inspire them with American ideals," Cox said.

"Now that the war is over I urge the prompt restoration of our great civil liberties of free speech, free assembly and free press."

Throughout his speech Cox claimed by enjoining the league of nations appropriations heretofore made for military and naval purposes can be diverted to fighting disease, maternity educational work, stamping out of illiteracy, Americanization work and the enlargement of educational facilities.

The governor said he believed he could anticipate what a national meeting of representative women would demand and that many of the "planks"
he could endorse.

"All women are concerned with the fact that every year a quarter of a million of little children and twenty thousand mothers in childbirth die from preventable diseases. A majority of these babies and mothers die,
not in cities, despite the heat and congestion, but in farm and mountain settlements where medical help is out of reach. Our platform urges cooperation with the states for the protection of child life through infancy and maternity care."

The governor declared that he had lost his support in the passage of fifty-
four laws to better conditions of life and labor.

Before a large crowd at Detroit last night, Cox attacked Blinn Root, Charles Evans Hughes, Herbert Hoover
and other "pro-league republicans"
for their statement in support of Harding and following his declaration for rejection of the Versailles covenant.

ARREST 'EMBALMERS' OF SUPPOSED DEAD MAN

By United Press Leased Wire

pty grave" mystery was believed near solution today when authorities
led Charles O. Haggitt and Wayne Lassery, declared to have prepared the body of B. J. Cochran for burial. Several thousand dollars had been collected in life insurance by Cochran's

The two men arrested face charges
in connection with collection of the money.

KID MC'COY SEPARATED FROM HIS EIGHTH WIFE

By United Press Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Calif.—Another chapter in the matrimonial experiences of Norman Selby, better known as "Kid" Mc'Coys, former prize fighter and present motion picture actor, had been concluded today with the granting of a divorce to Carmen Browner Selby, 20, his eighth wife.

"This man will get another wife if I grant the divorce," Judge Jackson
said.

"Perhaps it would be as well for this girl to act as a buffer for the rest of the community."

Nevertheless, the decree was granted.

MEXICO WILLING

President Huerta Outlines Policies of Incoming Administration.

(By Ralph H. Turner)
By United Press Leased Wire
Mexico City.—Declarations by President De la Huerta to American correspondents, covering Mexico's international and internal policies, were interpreted today as reflecting the attitude of the incoming Oregon administration.

Among the points made by De la Huerta were:

Mexico will pay all her just debts.
She will cooperate with the United States and Guatemala in maintaining peace along the international boundaries.

Although Mexico has not received a note from the United States outlining conditions for recognition "she would accept conditions which would not affect her national dignity."

The league of nations "is an institution beneficial to humanity."
Mexico has no intention of confiscating property.

De la Huerta's statement is known to have been prepared after conference
with Alvaro Obregon, president-elect, Roberto Pasquera, representative in Washington who has just returned,
and George Creel, former head of the American committee on public information.

Promises Mexican Peace
Dallas, Texas.—Peace will be continued in Mexico by providing justice
to everyone, General Alvaro Obregon,
president-elect of Mexico, declared during a visit here today.

"I am sure the government of Mexico will do everything necessary, adjusting itself to every moral right and law without exaction from any source," Obregon said referring to Mexico's desires for recognition by the United States.

Obregon's visit here was to promote greater friendship and more extensive trade relations between the southwest and Mexico.

He was cheered on every hand.

PRICES ARE STILL FALLING IN GOTHAM

Financial Journals Show Slow
But Steady Declines
in Prices.

New York.—Price recessions on the wholesale commodities continue unabated in New York, according to financial experts in their weekly reviews here today.

Bradstreet's trade report indicated
a drop of 1.16 per cent in the weekly
food index, while Dun's review listed 55 commodities showing declines against 22 showing increases.

Bradstreet's weekly index number, based on the prices per pound of 31 articles of food, is 3417, against $424 last week and $440 the week ending Oct. 15, 1919.

Dun, commenting, said although the downward trend of wholesale commodity prices met with rather more resistance this week, and while the changes were relatively less important, the readjustment to a lower basis, nevertheless continued strongly in evidence.

Principal declines were in textiles,
hides and leather. A reduction of 15 cents a yard in price of common bleached muslin was announced.

JENNINGS MAKES GOOD ON PROMISE TO QUIT

By United Press Leased Wire
Scranton, Pa.—Hugh Jennings, in his resignation as a member of the Detroit Tigers yesterday, made good a statement he made to newspaper men of Scranton, his home town, before he went south last spring.

Jennings, a few days before he left for the Tigers' training camp, said that 1920 would be his last year as a manager. At that time he intimated
he might be found in major league baseball in role other than that of manager in 1921, but would not go into his plans.

SAYS POLITICS KEPT U. S. OUT OF WORLD WAR

Harding Finds New Avenue for Attacking Democratic Administration.

ENTERS MISSOURI FIGHT
Republican Nominee Speaks in Two States on His Way to St. Louis.

By United Press Leased Wire
Enroute with Senator Harding,
Terre Haute, Ind.—France and England have both asked America to take the lead in re-kinning international relationships. Senator Warren G.
Harding said in a speech at Green Castle, Ind., today.

The speech was a denial of the assertion of Secretary Colby that only Germany, Austria and Turkey would go into Harding's proposed association of nations.

"France has sent her spokesmen to me informally asking America in its new realization of the situation to lead the way for an association of nations," Harding said.

"England has said through Lloyd George and Earl Grey that America must revise, amend and make the league of nations possible. They all recognize the demand for American leadership."

Speaking at Terre Haute, Harding assured coal miners of more regular employment in event of republican success. This would come, he said,
through strict enforcement of provisions of the Esch-Cummings railroad act which requires that coal cars be prorated to all mines and forbids discrimination of railroads in supply coal cars. The interstate commerce commission, Harding charged, has failed to enforce this section resulting in some mines shutting down temporarily while others
worked full blast.

With Senator Harding, Enroute to St. Louis.—Off on the last leg of his present speaking trip, Senator Harding today faced a heavy day of re-arrest speeches through Indiana and Illinois on his way to St. Louis where he speaks tonight.

Because of the split in the republican organization in Missouri, Harding's schedule was arranged so that he gets into St. Louis shortly after seven o'clock tonight just in time for his speech. He leaves immediately afterward for Marion.

His appearance in St. Louis is complicated by the fact that it is the home of Jacob Bahl, the national committeeman for Missouri who figured in the pre-convention financing of the presidential boom for Governor Low-den, of Illinois. The national republican committee, since Bahl did not resign, gave the active management of the campaign to Missouri over to State Chairman Hughes.

Harding is now aiming his anti-Wilson bludgeon in a new direction and is winging hard at the failure of the administration to enter the world war earlier. He deliberately charged in his Indianapolis speech that America
has kept out of war for political purposes and that for the sake of winning an election thousands of American lives were sacrificed on the battlefields of France.

Speaking with a visible emotion, Harding charged this as betrayal of American manhood and before he was through some women in the audience
were wiping tears away.

He got into this phase of the attack
after denying the charge made in a recent speech by William Gibbs Mc-Adoo that he favored compulsory military training. Any peace-time system of military training in America must be voluntary, Harding said. The statement being used against him now, he said, was made during the war when the administration was refusing, he charged, to permit Theodore Roosevelt
to take volunteers to France.

It is expected he will shortly discuss the situation in Haiti on the basis of disclosures recently made by Gen.
George Barnett, until recently commandant of the marine corps which was in control in Haiti.

U. S. STARTS TO CUT SALARIES OF WORKERS

aries of 450 employees of the postoffice department in a letter received from Postmaster General Burleson. Those affected were clerks and bookkeepers
who have averaged between $2,000 and $3,000 annually.

BRITAIN FACES TIE-UP OF ALL ITS INDUSTRIES

MINER STRIKE IS
WORLD CALAMITY

All Europe Will Suffer as a Result of Action in Great Britain.

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—The general strike of 1,000,000 British coal miners unless brought to a quick conclusion, will prove a world-wide economic calamity,
in the opinion of officials here today.

The industrial and even political consequences are likely to be far-reaching.

Europe's need for coal before the strike began was so urgent that industrial manufacturers were glad to pay from $25 to $30 a ton for American coal which cost $10 at the docks in New York. France, Belgium, Holland and the Scandinavian countries depend in great part on England for coal.

With British coal exports embar-gued, the factories of Europe will be forced to close, officials here said today. Millions of workers may be thrown out of employment.

Higher prices for food throughout Europe probably will be the first direct result of the British strike, it was believed here. The strike also will have a deterrent effect on world distribution of food and manufactured commodities through the coal bunkering factor, it was pointed out. British coal is used to bunker ships of all nations in all parts of the world.

By United Press Leased Wire
Atlanta, Ga.—Three gin and cotton fires in Georgia, one believed to have been incendiary, today marked the fulfillment of terrorist threats to destroy crops if they are prepared for market before the price goes up.

Several bales of cotton stored on the
J. D. Daniel farm west of Franklin, were burned. Daniel said the work was that of terrorists. Another attempted fire was reported in the same neighborhood.

Destruction of 250 bales of cotton and 50 tons of cottonseed in W. B.
Rice's warehouse at Dublin was re-

$20,000.

The third fire was at Clover, where

Final Meeting of Series to Be

Nearly 1,300 people heard the evangelists, Old F. Huggenbotham, and the Rev. W. W. Shannon on Friday at a series of meetings in the city. The room in the Y M C A was crowded with men eager to hear the story of Huggenbotham's life. The evangelist held the interest of his listeners as he told them of the time when he had been a gambler and drinker, and how he had been converted by attending just such a meeting as he and his associates are conducting here.

The service Saturday night will be held on the street in front of the First National Bank. All three of the evangelists will speak and Captain Pequegnat will sing.

MAKE SPECIALTIES OF CELLUCOTTON

Kimberly-Clark Company Forms
$400,000 Corporation to Handle Product.

Manufacture of specialties from cellulose cotton, made from wood, has been started in Neenah by the Cellulose Cotton Products company, incorporated this week with a capital stock of $400,000. Incorporated are Frank J. Sensesbrenner, James C. Kimberlin and S. F. Shattuck, all officers of the Kimberly-Clark company. The corporation was organized for the purpose of taking care of this phase of the Kimberly-Clark company's business.

Cellulose was invented during the war by Kimberly-Clark chemists as a substitute for absorbent cotton. The product is said to be superior to the "cotton" made from real cotton and was greatly in demand until the armistice was signed. The Globe and Neenah mills at Neenah had been partially rebuilt to make the product.

Since the armistice the company has been working on plans to market the product and finally hit upon the manufacture of specialties. The old plant of the National Fibre and Textile company is being rebuilt to manufacture these specialties and preparations are made to care for a tremendous demand.

Mrs. D. Nottage, 714 Union street, left Friday for Oklahoma where she will spend the winter.

POLITICIANS TO OPEN DRIVE FOR VOTES NEXT WEEK

Little Activity Has Been Manifested in County Politics Thus Far.

NOT MUCH POLITICAL TALK
Events Thus Far Indicate Quietest National Campaign in Many Years.

With election only three weeks away politicians are beginning to show more vigor in the campaign which will end November 2. Campaign parties are going out into the county nearly every day, indicating that a real battle will be waged in the remaining days before election.

Republican candidates for county office apparently are working harder than the democrats, indicating perhaps that the old feeling of security in office is not so pronounced this year. Democratic candidates are making a determined fight to get at least a few of the county jobs and will open their real campaign next week.

A meeting of democratic candidates is to be held Sunday afternoon to discuss campaign plans. It is planned to hold meetings in every town of the county and to carry on a fight which will make their opponents sit up and take notice.

The republican machine, which has never been permitted to remain idle long enough to get rusty, has been oiled up and is said to be working smoothly. Attorney A. H. Krueger, county chairman, is piloting the machine assisted by D. J. Zuelke, county secretary. These two experienced politicians are planning a campaign which, they hope, will sweep every republican into office by a tremendous majority.

Very little interest has been manifested by the voters in the national election thus far. There is a little discussion now and then of the league of nations and the liquor question but the personality of the candidates apparently is cutting little figures.

The state campaign is exciting more interest. Regular republicans are sticking by Blaine but there have been several notable defections to the McCoy ranks, especially among business men who are not eager to experiment with Non-Partisan League theories which they fear will be foisted on Wisconsin if Blaine wins the election. The senatorial race is not creating much interest as yet. Lenroot, thus far, seems to be the popular choice in Appleton.

All in all this is one of the quietest pre-election campaigns in many years. Voters apparently have made up their minds whom they will support and are going their way confident that there will be no changes before election day.

GO OVER THE TOP ON ELECTION DAY

At nine A. M. on November 2, the battle of the ballots begins. The course of the nation will be determined by the mandate of the people expressed at the polls.

The success or failure of the nation is dependent upon the wisdom with which the vote is cast. It is therefore vital that every citizen should know the issues.

To help him toward this end our Washington Information Bureau is issuing a packet of political information including the platforms, the keynote speeches, the speeches of acceptance of each party, together with a booklet on the Soviet Government.

In view of this it was believed one of the first affects of the strike will be the holding up of shipping. The food ministry has announced if the strike is confined to the miners there will be an adequate supply of food-stuffs but if it extends to other industries drastic rationing plans may be necessary.

The only food so far affected has been sugar.

An emergency order issued by the board of trade asks the public to reduce consumption of coal, gas and electricity.

Electric signs and inside illumination of shops after they are closed has been ordered discontinued. Families have been instructed to reduce their consumption of coal a hundredweight a week.

Industrial concerns have been told to reduce consumption of light and power.

The transport ministry has stated officially railways passenger services will not be curtailed until people have been given an opportunity to reach their homes. Then it will be cut down from 10 to 20 per cent.

Suburban and city service will be maintained indefinitely.

Non-essential freight will be cut down as the shortage is felt.

According to the board of trade public utilities can be continued three months after production of coal ceases. Coal exporters are negotiating for purchases from the United States and China to fulfill their contracts on the continent.

LENROOT OPENS UP ON BOB'S TRICKERY

Senatorial Candidate Avers
Senior Senator Misrepresented Position.

Waupun, Wis. — Senator Irvin L. Lenroot, firing the second gun of his campaign here Friday night, made startling disclosures of gross misrepresentation by Senator La Follette of the Esch-Cummings law, and debate relating there to.

Senator Lenroot charged that in editorializing on one of his speeches with reference to the original Cummings law, Mr. La Follette selected a few sentences from the middle of a paragraph, which, standing alone, gave directly opposite the meaning from that when read in connection with the whole paragraph.

He read from Mr. La Follette's editorial, then from the Congressional Record to substantiate his charge of duplicity and trickery.

"In fairness, as between man and man, I am entitled to a public retraction from Senator La Follette," he said.

Law Misrepresented
"The Esch-Cummings law has been deliberately misrepresented to the people of Wisconsin, and I regret that my colleague, Senator La Follette, is engaged in misrepresenting this provision, and my position will respect to this question," said Senator Lenroot.

"In the September issue of La Follette's magazine, a most glaring misrepresentation of my position is found in the editorializing of Senator La Follette and the proof against him is so clear that his closest friends must admit that he is guilty of committing an act of great injustice.

"I quote from the editorial: 'When the Cummings bill was under debate in the senate Mr. Lenroot declared, on Dec. 10, 1919, "I do not believe that it is possible to operate the railroads in the future and secure the capital that is necessary for successful operation without a guarantee from the government," and then he repeats the falsehood, that I have so often exposed, that the Esch-Cummings law guarantees a return of 5 1/2 or 6 per cent on seven or eight billion dollars of watered stock.

Part of Sentence
"It is the quotation from my speech that I wish to call attention to. He has selected a few sentences from the middle of a paragraph, which standing alone gives a directly opposite meaning from that when read in connection with the whole paragraph. I was discussing the original Cummings bill which I opposed and in connection with the bill I have introduced.

"Now let me quote the entire paragraph I said. 'In conclusion, Mr. President, I have only this to say. As I said in the beginning I do not believe that the pending bill offers a solution of the railway problem. For that reason I can not support it. I believe that it will only further complicate a very badly complicated problem. I do not believe that it is possible to operate the railroads in the future and secure the capital that is necessary for successful operation without a guaranty from the government. I do not believe that congress will and I feel very certain that congress should not give such a guaranty while the railroads are managed under the old system. I do not believe that congress will ever be warranted in affording a guaranty unless the majority control is not in the hands of the government, but in the hands of political appointees, but in the hands of a body that will have as its first consideration not the interests of the stockholder, not the interests of the employees, but the interests of the public.'"

Californian Declares There Is
No Ambiguity in Harding Attitude.

By United Press-Associated Wire
Milwaukee.—Senator Hiram Johnson, speaking before a capacity crowd in the auditorium here last night, gave his unqualified endorsement of Irvin L. Lenroot for reelection to the United States senate.

Johnson declared that Senator Lenroot "is an able man and we need him at Washington."

Speaking of the league of nations, Johnson declared "the overshadowing pall on the republic that we love is the Wilson league of nations."

"You and I must remove that pall," he told his hearers.

"I think President Wilson went to Europe with the best of intentions, but he was wholly overpowered," Johnson said.

Johnson denounced campaign orators and newspapers that attempt to misrepresent the attitude of Senator Harding toward the league. He said there was no ambiguity in the stand of the republican party or Senator Harding on that question.

The Power House of Business

The power that drives every business to success is the financial standing and assistance it is able to command. Without such assistance the full development of any enterprise is impossible.

Are you able to develop your latent powers to the full extent or are you hindered by the lack of capital?

This Bank stands ready to assist you if you show the proper determination to succeed.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

Appleton, Wisconsin

BECKER ESTATE WORTH $250,000

Widow Gets $10,000, Household Furniture and $400 Each Month.

The will of the late F. F. Becker, president of the First National bank of Kaukauna, and a former resident of Appleton, just admitted to probate, provides for the distribution of an estate estimated at $250,000 which is to be divided between his widow, Anna S. Becker, his children and his brothers, Henry G. Becker of Minneapolis, and William F. Becker of Grand Rapids, Minn.

The First Trust company of Milwaukee is named as trustee and Deane S. Becker, Henry G. Becker and Karl W. Becker are appointed executors. In the codicil which bears date of June 26, 1920, B. J. Zuehlke of Appleton is named as co-executor and co-trustee. The will is dated Appleton, July 5, 1918, and the witnesses are B. J. Zuehlke and George T. Richards. The witnesses of the codicil are Olga Wisthoff and Dr. V. F. Marshall.

The widow was given $5,000 absolutely which in the codicil was increased to $10,000 and all of the household furniture and fixtures. She was also given the use of the homestead and $300 per month during her life time or until her remarriage at which time the amount is to be reduced to $100. In the codicil the $300 monthly

PARCEL POST MAIL INCREASING DAILY

Employees of the postoffice, who have been busy for two weeks counting and weighing parcel post mail completed their work Friday night and will be able to give out the result within the next few days. The counting and weighing is done twice a year, from Oct. 1 to Oct. 15 and from April 1 to April 15. All outgoing mail is weighed and all incoming is counted. The mail ranges in weight from an ounce up to seventy pounds and the postal regulations require a separate record for the various weights. The amount of parcels post mail handled the last two weeks is more than double the amount handled during the counting and weighing period last spring. This is due in great measure to the increase in express rates which has resulted in more parcels being shipped by mail.

allowance was increased to $400. At the end of ten years if the widow has not remarried she is to be given an additional $10,000.

Each of the brothers, Henry G. Becker and William F. Becker are to receive $1,000 annually in quarterly installments during the existence of the trust estate and at the final distribution of the estate each is to receive $5,000. The children are to share alike and their portion of the estate is to be transferred by the trustees to them upon attaining the age of 25 years, unless it seems to their interest to delay the transfer but not longer than ten years.

In the event of the death of the widow and his children before the trust estate shall have been distributed the testator provides that the undistributed portion of the estate shall be held, managed and disposed of by the trustee for the benefit of his nephews and nieces.

In the codicil the testator bequeaths to his son, Deane S. Becker, his seal skin coat, and to his son, Karl W. Becker, his diamond ring.

LOCAL COMMITTEE AIDING SUFFERERS

Appleton Contributions to Jewish Relief Funds Go Directly to Europe.

Millions of children in Europe have never known the meaning of play. They are as old men and women. They have never smiled. They have known nothing but misery during their entire lives. Homeless, without adequate food or shelter, and subject to the awful disease ravages that have swept over eastern and central Europe in the wake of war, they can look to America alone for aid. Thousands of aged have, by necessity, been permitted to die. But the children are entitled to loving kindness that is the heritage of every child and the right to hope for strength to live for future world usefulness.

The Jewish Relief Committee, which has distributed thirty million dollars raised in this country since 1915 has concentrated on the children.

FARMERS PASSING UP MANY CHANCES

Very Few Outagamie County Breeders Have Pure Bred Stock for Sale.

(By Paul O. Nyhus)

(Farm Agent, First National Bank)
That few Holstein breeders in Outagamie County have a surplus of well developed pure bred cows was brought out last week by a trip about the County which the writer made, together with buyers from Michigan. Aside from the fact that W. H. Steffen had a small number of surplus animals in his herd, for which he received the neat sum of $3,000, nevertheless there were few men who had enough of a surplus to really want to sell.

The conditions as found further indicated that Outagamie dairymen are not living up to profitable possibilities by the breeding of purebred cattle.

Outside buyers must buy in those localities and from those farmers who have a surplus. In other words, it is poor business to try to buy from a man who does not want to sell. It is evident, therefore, that our County must have a larger number of breeders having full herds in order to attract the best outside buyers.

Buyers—who know cattle—insist upon getting animals with good size, straight top lines, and production breeding. These qualities are the market demands, and the shrewd farmer will see to it that he raises that for which the buyer pays the most money. In Outagamie County, too much emphasis cannot be placed upon breeding animals with straight top lines. It is one of the points that careful buyers will not be without. Careful buyers will buy a cow for $100 simply because they are purebreds. They must show production breeding.

In order to establish a reputation for Outagamie County as a Holstein center, let us have more purebred Holstein breeders, and bulls with good top lines whose dams have made creditable records.

POWER OF REALTY BOARD TO BE TESTED

Real Estate Company Objects to Investigation of Its Selling Methods.

Madison, Wis.—Court action in the injunction proceeding of the Peddie Land Co. against the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' board will come up Monday, Oct. 18, before County Judge M. L. Bunnell, Juneau county, acting as court commissioner, when there will be an examination under the statute at the instance of the Peddie Land Co. of George Clark, the settler who instituted the proceedings before the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' board for the revocation of the license of the Peddie Land Co.

This action is of state-wide importance, because it brings in issue the question of the representations as to the value of the lands in regard to drained lands in the Cutler district, and has more than passing interest because it brings to the foreground the entire issue as to the methods which are being used for the sale of some of these drained lands in Wisconsin. Like the rent bureau, the Wisconsin Real Estate Brokers' board is meeting with legal fights in its attempt to hold inquiries when the interests involved are large. The Peddie Land Co. is an Iowa concern with a large capital, operating in Juneau county.

Misrepresentation Alleged
The case originated before the board when George E. Clark, the settler, filed a complaint before the board and the injunction is to prevent a hearing by this board upon this complaint, the allegations of Mr. Clark being that the land was misrepresented to him both by advertising and the personal statements of agents of the Peddie Land Co. The injunction proceedings argument will be on Oct. 25, and the attorney general's office is representing the state in the fight. Asst. Atty. Gen. J. F. Baker being attorney in this case as well as in the rent cases.

Important Issue
The case is attracting a great deal of interest in the counties of Wisconsin where there are drained land districts, and also in Illinois and Iowa in which states there is great activity by agents of the drained land companies in the solicitation for the sales of the lands. State officials, including Gov. Philipp, are taking a great amount of interest in the case for the reason that they believe that upon the outcome of this case depends the right of the state to regulate land sales in Wisconsin. It might be added that the immi-

Where YOU Share in the Benefits of this Nation-wide Demonstration Sale

INCREASED production is the one great need of America today. The Pathe Freres Phonograph Co., in common with other large industrial concerns is exerting every energy at its command to meet this economic necessity.

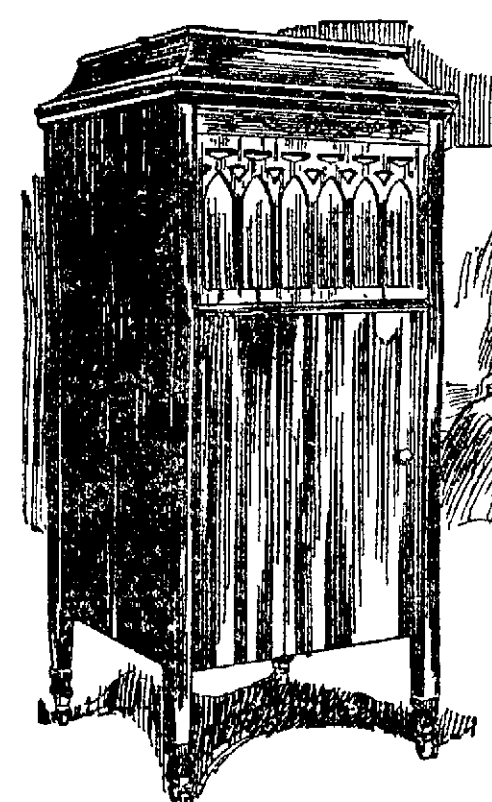

But increased production, without constant and equal distribution, would retard, instead of improve the situation.

Increased production, instantly distributed to and absorbed by the public, will do more to bring back and maintain, good old pre-war prices than any other one single influence.

And this is precisely what the Pathe Company and its dealers are endeavoring to accomplish through this Nation-wide Demonstration Sale.

The Pathe Freres Phonograph Co., backed by a constantly and enormously increasing demand from its famous Pathe Phonographs and Records has greatly increased its production by intensified selling throughout its nation-wide organization. Every factor in its great and growing business is concentrated on production—more production and yet still more production.

And now, in co-operation with its dealers, of which we are one, it has formulated this great demonstration plan so that its distribution will keep pace with its increased production and thus secure to you the fair and honest price and all of the benefits you may enjoy during this unusual sale.

Conditions of Sale

TRYING TO LINE UP FOR BLAINE

For the sake of party regularity energetic efforts are being made to line John J. Blaine up on the Republican platform. The state central committee has adopted this resolution: "Be it hereby resolved that the support of this committee be given to those candidates nominated in the primary who support the Republican platform and to candidates indorsing that platform." This is an attempt to avoid the necessity of opposing Blaine and of throwing Republican support to the Democratic candidate for governor, Col. Robert M. McCoy. From the standpoint of party organization and regularity the move is defensible, but from the standpoint of the voter it should accomplish nothing.

What the people of Wisconsin should aspire to, and what they presumably do aspire to, is good government—government which protects them in their rights as citizens, and which is administered capably and for their prosperity and progress. It should make no difference whether those who constitute the government are Republicans or Democrats. State government is a thing wholly apart from national government so far as questions of policy, legislation and administration are concerned. It is true that in party organization there is a close affiliation, but that is a matter of politics.

The Republican platform is before the people of Wisconsin. It is essentially the same as the Democratic platform. It stands for progressive, economical, clean government. It denounces radicalism and Non-Partisan league leadership. Mr. Blaine does not stand on that platform. He has expressly refused to indorse it. He could not indorse it and accept nomination for governor by the Non-Partisan league, which he has done. Moreover, he declared when he accepted the Non-Partisan league nomination that he stood upon its socialistic platform "with both feet."

It is therefore impossible for Mr. Blaine to stand upon both platforms, for the Republican platform is not only diametrically opposed to the Non-Partisan league platform but denounces those who drew it. If Mr. Blaine were shipped into approval of the Republican platform it would manifestly be an insincere, a dishonest approval, unless he at the same time formally and conscientiously repudiated the Non-Partisan league and its platform. This he will not do, for the reason that temperamentally he is a socialist and is indissolubly linked with La Folletteism and radicalism.

From the standpoint of the voter, therefore, who is for good government in Wisconsin, Blaine could not be made an acceptable candidate even if he were forced into an indorsement of the Republican platform. He is the nominee of the Non-Partisan league and cannot be separated from that organization by any subterfuge undertaken to preserve party unity. As such he cannot possibly be acceptable to those people of Wisconsin who believe in preserving government as it exists in this state, who are opposed to socialism and who wish to see true Republican principles upheld.

Col. McCoy has subscribed to the Republican platform in full, so far as it relates to state affairs. He has taken an unequivocal position and one which is entirely consistent with his candidacy on the Democratic ticket. A desperate effort will be made by politicians to line up Republicans for Blaine between now and election, but the people should remember it is only the work of professional politicians and that the politician's attitude toward government is entirely different from that of the citizen and the public interest.

A CAMPAIGN OF DISHONESTY
The manner in which the Republican organization and Senator Harding have met the league of nations issue raises the question whether there is any political integrity and political morality left in the country. But one controlling thought has been kept in mind and that was to satisfy every conflicting element of the party. The league of nations has been treated as a mere incident, and yet it involves the concerted effort of the civilized world to attain peace and put an end to war. This may be good politics, but it is at the same time dishonesty and demagoguery.

Mr. Harding has so well convinced the Johnson-Borah irreconcilables, opposed to a league of nations in any form, that he is with them that they are stumping the country for his election on this one issue. "It would be unkind of me to comment on poor Taft," sneers Senator Hiram Johnson. "Taft can save his face so long as he doesn't save his league." This illuminating expression shows only too well what Senator Johnson expects of the administration with reference to a league or association of nations. As for Mr. Taft, he is supporting Mr. Harding on the theory that Johnson is wrong and that the nominee and the party will favor going into the league under modifications. The same is true of Hughes, Root, Wickersham, Hoover, Lowell and other prominent pro-league Republicans. They are all urging the election of Harding on the ground that he will not keep America out of the league. Mr. Harding has convinced both elements.

Before the campaign the Johnson-Borah anti-league forces were limited to a handful of senators. They had no standing or support in the country. Today they have forced the Republican party and its nominee for president into a position that is utterly devoid of consistency and political integrity. Who is getting bunkoed? Is it the people?

The extremes to which this political scandal has degenerated is even better illustrated by the attempt to make it appear that Wilson wrote the league of nations, that it is his league and that his uncompromising demand for unconditional ratification is what defeated it. The truth is the Republicans had quite as much to do with drafting the league as did Mr. Wilson. Official correspondence given out by the White house shows that the president consulted freely with Taft, Root and Hughes in framing the covenant. Of seven changes suggested by Mr. Hughes the president obtained the adoption of five by the peace conference. Of six suggestions proposed by Mr. Root five were adopted, and of four urged by ex-President Taft all were adopted. In addition to this Mr. Root accepted a commission from the president to go to Europe and help organize and set up the permanent court of international justice under the league covenant and has performed that great work.

The Republican senate has three times voted to ratify the league covenant with the Lodge reservations and Senator Harding himself voted for ratification. The Republican record, Republican statesmanship, Republican leadership are inextricably bound up with the league of nations covenant. They helped create the league, helped draft the covenant and sought to have it ratified. Yet today, to placate the Johnson-Borah irreconcilables who represent no element of American citizenship that is of consequence in the affairs of the nation, and who stand solely for an anti-war reaction that is humiliating, destructive of American honor and hopelessly opposed to the aspirations of the world for peace, Senator Harding pretends to ditch the league and "turns his back" upon the record of his party and the leadership of its statesmen. Two days before Senator Harding in his Des Moines speech rejected and repudiated the league of nations in toto, the Philadelphia public ledger which is supporting him for president, printed an editorial in which it said:

The president's plea for the league of nations is superfluous, for the reason that the United States cannot stay out of the association created by the Versailles treaty. It will enter that association whether the Republicans or the Democrats control the senate. The logic of events will force us in. Fully three-fourths of the members of the present senate are in favor of entering. If a presidential campaign had not intervened, it is morally certain that the treaty would have been ratified in a form acceptable to the other signatories long ago. There will be no reason for playing politics with the treaty after November 2. Final action may be delayed until the new administration comes into power in March, but in the meantime the issue will be considered on its merits so far as that is possible with an issue which has been made the plying of politics when it seemed possible to make political capital out of it.

This prophecy may be true and we trust it is true, but if so what becomes of Mr. Harding's declarations? Is he a man without a mind of his own, without conviction, without resolution, or is he merely a piece of political wax in the hands of whoever is strong or clever enough to take possession? Is it not clearly Mr. Harding who is making the league the "football of politics?"

HERE'S A SCOTCH VERDICT
Letter from a reader:
"A friend of mine was taken with severe pains in the upper abdomen on a Wednesday night. She felt nauseated, but did not vomit. She had also severe headache. She refused to call a physician because an old woman of the neighborhood assured her that the illness was entirely due to getting her feet wet. I warned her that it was all nonsense to imagine that wet feet could hurt any one. But she believed what the old woman said about it and would not let me call the doctor. Well, it proved disastrous for my friend. My husband went to leave all sorts of rubbish about changes of weather getting wet, etc., giving one cold. But he got rid of all his foolish notions after he joined the Canadian Army and endured all kinds of hardships in France. Many a time he was wet through and had to let his clothes dry on him. He slept in dugouts and in the mud and snow and never had a cold. I came from Glasgow, Scotland, and there were eight children in our family. My parents had not the means to give us many clothes to wear, and we received only the plainest food and not too much of it. Yet we all grew up strong and well. What did I tell you?"

Will some old fogey doctor who still thinks it is a bit of an adventure getting feet wet, or one of any age chronologically speaking, point out to our benefit why the soldiers suffered no alleged colds while in the trenches, exposed to the severest wet and cold as they were?

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Movies and the Eyes
Please inform me whether moving pictures are harmful to the eyes in any way. (E. F.)
ANSWER—Moving pictures of the better type (mechanically) are not harmful to the eyes. There are still a few exhibitors who inflict on the audience flickering pictures, or use films so worn out as to give a "rainy" effect on the screen, and these are indeed bad for the eyes.
Coffee or Whiskey
In order to settle an argument kindly advise which is more harmful, coffee drinking or whiskey drinking. B likes a cup of coffee for breakfast and J says this is harmful. But J likes a glass of whiskey (when he can get it) and declares this is good for anybody. (B. & J.)
ANSWER—One or two cups of coffee a day rarely does anything but good to an adult. One glass of whiskey a day may produce serious liver or kidney disease.

Cleaning Teeth
Is soap good for cleaning teeth? (H. H.)
ANSWER—Soap is the best thing we have for cleaning teeth. All tooth powders, pastes and lozenges consist largely of soap. Plain soap is my own preference.
Swallowed a Nail
A four-year-old boy swallowed a small nail five days ago. Some say the acid in his stomach will dissolve it. Have heard that dry boiled potatoes are good to feed in such a case. Please tell me what to do. (E. M. L.)
ANSWER—Do nothing. Of course the acid in the stomach will not dissolve it. The nail was probably passed from the bowel within 48 to 72 hours. Give no physic in such a case. Such food as baked potatoes, well ripened bananas, and thoroughly cooked vegetables of any kind may be given, in order to leave a large residue in the bowel to cover the nail, but this is only for the first day or two. If any trouble develops, an X-ray examination would probably show whether the nail is still in the alimentary tract.

Presidential Campaigns
By Frederic J. Haskin
XXIII. The Follies of 1912
Washington, D. C.—Those who are discouraged by the relatively unexciting character of national politics this year, and who are inclined to fear that we never will have another good rousing presidential campaign, should consider recent history.
The presidential show of 1908 was just such a fizzle from the dramatic and spectacular standpoint as the present one seems to be; but how nobly did 1912 redeem the reputation of the American politicians for staging a first-class show!
Several salient characteristics of our national political games were illustrated in the 1912 campaign. One of them is that a hot campaign is not made hot by burning issues, but rather by burning personal animosities. Burning issues are no longer introduced into presidential campaigns—a fact of which the present one should afford all the proof that anyone requires. The really colorful questions are ducked by both parties by mutual consent, and, if they are brought forward at all, it is by some third party which is in no danger of electing its ticket and having to meet them. The somewhat moribund glow which is given by the politicians to the discussion of current problems might be compared to the fox-fire which you see in the woods on summer nights. That is, it is a faint illumination given off by dead and rotten matter, and is capable of deceiving none but the uninitiate.
So it was in 1912. It is true that Mr. Roosevelt ran on a "social justice" platform which contained many planks of radical sound, if somewhat vague meaning. It is also true that many of the men who voted for him were sincere liberals who believed in that platform. But the thing which made the campaign interesting, which split the Republican party wide open, was a temperamental difference between Mr. Taft and Mr. Roosevelt.
From the viewpoint of political expediency, Roosevelt was undoubtedly right. The temper of the country was relatively radical in 1912. It had had four years of conservative government and it wanted a change. The way to elect a president was to be at least ostensibly radical. And Roosevelt was as radical by temperament as Taft was conservative. In the specific measures which they were prepared to advocate they did not differ substantially. A current Democratic cartoon shows them as a couple of street brawlers hauled up before a Justice of the Peace, who is trying in vain to find out what they are fighting about.
Nobody could answer that question with any clarity, but how they did erupt! Mr. Roosevelt leaped into the ring with both fists going. His talent for personal invective was never displayed to better advantage. Mr. Taft, distressed and outraged by such unmannerly tactics, at first stuck in a dignified manner to his favorite subject of the Constitution of the United States. But finally, realizing that one cannot be a perfect gentleman and a competent politician at the same time, he turned ponderously upon his opponent with the inspiring remark that even a rat will fight when cornered. He gave a good account of himself, too, and the result would not have been so certain had not an excited member of the crowd plucked a bullet through the colonel's shoulder at the crucial point in the campaign. That, together with Armageddon and the singing of "Onward Christian Soldiers" insured a sufficient split in the Republican vote to make Democratic victory a dead certainty.

Dramatic Conventions
The dramatic quality of the 1912 event began with the conventions and ended only with the announcement of the final result. The Republican Convention with its fight over contested delegates was one of the bitterest in the history of the country. One excited leader declared that if personal collision should occur on the floor a hundred men would be killed before order could be restored. He was so confident of this carnage that he refused to allow his wife to attend the convention the first day. The event was much more exciting than that. In fact, nobody so much as slapped anybody else's face; but the contests were hotly contested and Taft won over two hundred of them while Roosevelt won about nineteen. Then Mr. Roosevelt bolted, with the announcement that the fight was on between the "people" and the corrupt politicians. Came then the Bull Moose meeting in Chicago with its Marathon cheers, its complete harmony, and its crusading spirit, marred only by the question in some minds as to just how and why Mr. La Follette had been ditched.
The Democratic Convention in Baltimore was hardly less exciting, and here again the reason was that intense and conflicting personal interests were involved. Everyone saw that a Democratic nomination was very likely to amount to an election. Both Mr. Wilson and Mr. Clark had supporters who were ready to yell and vote to the last for their heroes. The situation became truly dramatic as Clark forced his way slowly to within a few votes of the coveted goal, and then slowly fell away again until the charge of the Illinois delegation, under Roger Sullivan, settled the battle in favor of the New Jersey professor.

West and East
The three-cornered vote of 1912 shed some interesting light on the political complexion of various sections of the country. It showed that the widest cleavage in America is that between the West and the Northeast. It was the West that voted for Roosevelt, that marched to Armageddon singing hymns—that, in a word, took seriously to itself the hope of a rejuvenation of American politics and of an effective program of liberal reform. It was the Northeast which stood fast to Mr. Taft, unaffected by the winds of chance and change. It was the solid South that elected Woodrow Wilson, solely because he was a Democrat.

It was no more carried away by the moral fervor of the occasion than was the Northeast. In a word, this vote demonstrated what has become vastly more apparent since then, that the West is the true home of liberalism and radicalism in America. The West believes in change. The West has natural resources and it wants them conserved. The East wants the status quo. The East has money massed in private ownership and wants to keep it there. The fact that the South is Democratic by habit and the North Republican for the same reason has lost its significance. The sectional line of political cleavage in the United States, so far as the vote has turned at right angles and now approximately coincides with the Mississippi River.

TALKS ON CITIZENSHIP
By D. O. KINSMAN, Ph. D.
Professor of Economics, Lawrence College, and Educational Director of the Wisconsin Society for Civic and Economic Education.

The Democratic Platform
As one wades through the Democratic and the Republican platform he is impressed with three things. First, they are too long. Second, they lack definiteness of statement. Third, they treat a great variety of subjects. But there is purpose in it all. Some one has defined a platform as something to get in on. A political platform is no exception. In a political platform, capable of various interpretations, and it must appeal to many classes. The platforms are alike in this respect. Yet, there are differences.
The Democratic platform is as ardent in its praise of President Wilson for his position upon the great international questions as the Republican platform is in its denunciation of him. The Wilson spirit is, in a very true sense, an issue in the campaign.
The League of Nations is heartily endorsed by the Democratic platform. It declares that the treaty should be immediately ratified "without reservation" which would impair its essential integrity. But it does not oppose "the acceptance of any reservation making clearer or more specific the obligations of the United States to the League associates." The League of Nations is believed to be the surest, if not the only, practicable means of terminating war, and maintaining the permanent peace of the world. We have, it is declared, international obligations that we must assume if we are to hold our position among the nations of the world.
Sympathy is expressed for Ireland and the principle of self-determination is affirmed. Armenia is promised aid in its effort to establish and maintain a government of its own. Mexico, when some government gives proof of its ability to maintain law and order, and meet international obligations, should receive the recognition and sympathy of the United States.
Capital receives less attention than in the Republican platform. The emphasis is placed upon labor rather than capital. The employees are largely to blame, it is declared, for the present chronic restlessness. Capital is appreciated but in no sense favored. The business man is admonished to be honest.
Labor receives sympathetic consideration. The platform opposes compulsory arbitration in private industries. Labor should be protected in its right to organize and to bargain collectively. The right of government employees to strike is denied. The suggestion is made that greater cooperation should exist between labor and capital but no suggestion is made as to the nature of this cooperation. Child welfare work is to be encouraged, and employment service is recommended. Because of the consideration given to the rights of labor it is likely that the labor unions will support the democratic ticket.
Transportation is emphasized. The administration of the railroads by the government is approved. It is proposed, however, to give the Esch-Crowder bill a fair trial. Waterways should be developed. The St. Lawrence project which would make the lake harbors great ocean ports is especially recommended. Attention is called to the development of our shipping interests during the democratic administration and continued encouragement is promised.
The tariff should be revised but in accordance with the well known democratic principle of tariff for revenue only. The revision should be made only after careful study of the subject by an expert non-partisan commission.
The farmer is to be encouraged in several ways. Legislation is recommended which will insure the right of collective bargaining and the right of collective handling and marketing of their products.

Immigration receives attention. The immigration of Asiatics is opposed. A campaign of Americanization is recommended. But the platform is silent relative to the revision of the immigration laws.
Less prominent questions receive attention. A budget system for the United States is advocated; reduction of taxes recommended; peace time laws should be enacted; and cost of living reduced.
Such are the issues of the campaign as seen by the Democrats and such is the position of the Democratic party upon them as declared by their platform.
The two parties seem to be in substantial agreement on not a few issues. Several minor issues are involved in the campaign such as the tariff question and the domination of the Senate but the primary issue is nationalism vs. internationalism. This is an all-important issue and every voter should make it a subject of special study and reach very definite conclusions as to the right position of the United States in regard to foreign nations.
(One week from today Professor Kinsman will discuss the "Socialist and the Prohibition Platforms.")

THE BOOK OF DEBORAH

Debs Practices Sublimation—Useful Ideas for Silly Ones
My intentions to pour my woes into poor Debbie's patient ears was baffled for that morning, at least, and I discovered, to my astonishment, that she had undertaken her own cure. She was calling Ted Moore on the phone. For golf—yes—as soon as he could come over! I reproved myself thus:
"You've too much imagination. Jane Lorimer! Maybe Deb isn't going to be a martyr to love after all!"
My friend smiled as she came back to me.
"Ever hear of 'sublimation,' Jane?" she asked.
"Surely! You substitute a useful idea for a silly one!" I answered. "A constructive idea for a destructive one! Isn't that right?"
"Yes! And if you're awfully in love, my dear, you try to think of something very practical."
"And sensible-like golf—I suppose?"
Deb nodded.
"Success to your experiment!" I said, and I wanted to add:
"But how about Ted? He's in love with you Deb. And you're going to save your soul at his expense! You're going to take your mind off from Jim by playing golf with Ted, and as I see it, love is an exorable monster, always searching for a sacrifice. Somebody is bound to be destroyed in the end—but why should it be poor Ted in this case?"
Why couldn't Deborah choose another victim, I wondered. She had plenty to pick from. (As I saw life, it would have been a grand compensation for her to pick out—or pick on—Paul Van Eyck, for instance.)
Paul is my friend Willy's big brother, and society's pet rich bachelor, the desired son-in-law of the most ambitious mothers of half the country.

Paul is 40, if a day, which is reasonable enough to make the debutantes simply silly about him. He is charming—I like to talk with him myself—and cultured to the 'nth degree, or my husband never would overlook his attentions for the sake of his conversation.
Paul has broken several dozen hearts in his time, the gossip says, and I am sure it pleased the older matrons very much when they discovered that he was staying in town to woo Deborah Burns. He was in for retribution at last! He was bound to lose—and everybody hoped that he would. But he was made at some clubs with the odds against him.
Paul Van Eyck has acquired all most international fame as the inventor and chief devotee of the most expensive sports. He follows a certain temperature the year around, sticks as close as he can to a flat 68 degrees, and travels north and south, east and west, to find it.
Deb says that the poor old dear had a hard time while the war lasted. He couldn't go to Cannes or to Cairo with his 37 trunks, his valet and his secretary. Instead, he went to Asia, which he hated. And last winter he passed at home—for the first time in a decade.
"He's met his Waterloo at last!" Bob had told me. "Deborah Burns!"
"The old egotist! How dare he! He's twice her age!" I exclaimed.
Whereat, my husband merely shrugged his shoulders.
"I guess you men do not look upon love as women do!" I shrugged my own shoulders. I realized that I was just beginning to learn some things about Bob. Sometimes he doesn't seem to be responsible at all for the quality of his opinions.
And sometimes—Bob is so interested in me that he wouldn't leave me for a combination of Minerva, Juno and Venus! And sometimes—well, I'd be sorry to take a chance on Venus alone!

OFFICIALS HINT AT RUM SCANDAL

Entire Prohibition Structure in America is Said to Be Tottering.

Washington.—The structure of prohibition is tottering. The alleged prohibition scandal in Milwaukee is but one of the weak spots in the prohibition structure. With reports of prohibition scandals piling up, it appeared Friday night that the administration must make a clean sweep, resort to drastic measures for enforcement of the law, or admit that prohibition is a failure. The department of justice and the prohibition commissioner's office both admitted on Friday that they had reports on the alleged scandal in Milwaukee and the reported charge of prohibition officer Herzog that information concerning proposed raids had been tipped off. The Milwaukee affair was taken very calmly, however, for it was but a drop in the bucket of scandal that has been dumped at the door of the administration in the last few days.

No Action Ordered
No action from Washington has been ordered on the Milwaukee case. It was stated at the department of justice and the office of the prohibition commissioner. Action will follow upon recommendations which federal agents in the field may make.

THIRSTY VOTER MAKES "TERRIBLE MISTAKE"

By United Press Leased Wire
Chatham, N. B.—When tellers here began counting ballots cast in the provincial election last week one voter hovered nervously around the ballot boxes and insisted that a "terrible mistake" had been made.
For some time it was thought a recount might be necessary but the "terrible mistake" was rectified today when the authorities returned to the anxious voter a "prescription" for a quart of whiskey which he had dropped in the ballot box, thinking it was his vote.

ONE TEAM TO BE FORCED OUT OF BIG TEN RACE

By United Press Leased Wire
Urbana, Ill.—Iowa and Illinois, winners of the 1919 Big Ten conference championship, clashed on the gridiron here today.
With both teams holding one victory, today's game was expected to eliminate one as a possible winner of this year's conference championship. Iowa was a slight favorite. Illinois was handicapped by sickness and injuries to three of its regular linemen.

PURPLE CONFIDENT AS IT TACKLES BADGERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison—Wisconsin's cardinal eleven and Northwestern's title aspirants went into action today with a chance at the big ten conference championship as the stake.
The Evanston invaders arrived here with a big game of victory, but with confidence as a result of the victory over Minnesota last Saturday.
The Methodists line outweighed Wisconsin's wall by several pounds, while the Badgers had a slight edge in back field weight. A bright sun dried out the few soggy spots in Randall field and ideal football weather prevailed.

U. C. TO HELP SETTLE EUROPEAN DISPUTE

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C.—The United States probably will appoint a member of the league of nations commission which will try to settle the Aland Islands dispute between Finland and Sweden. It was learned today at the state department.
President Wilson is inclined to favor American representation on the commission. It was learned authoritatively. He is eager that the Aland controversy, which is of 100 years standing, be settled immediately.
State department officials hold this country would not be handicapped in participating because it is not a member of the league.

14 DEAD IN ONE CITY IN ITALIAN RIOTS

Rome.—The total casualties in the rioting at San Giovanni Rotondo yesterday are given in latest reports as fourteen killed and eighty seriously wounded.
According to the accounts, the casualties occurred as the result of Socialists taking possession of the city hall and attempting to hoist the red flag. The invading forces, it is declared, fired at the carabinieri, and the latter, reinforced by troops, returned the fire. The messages add a general strike by Socialists has been proclaimed in Trieste, Bologna, and Brescia.

CARPENTIER TO HURRY BACK TO "DEAR FRANCE"

New York.—Georges Carpentier, new light heavyweight champion, is planning to return soon to France, according to a report here today. Neither Carpentier nor his manager, Francois Descamps could be reached.
Comment on his fight with Levinsky is said to have caused the Frenchman's decision to return home sooner than he expected.

Unless a dust mop is given special care it does more harm than good when used on a hardwood floor.
After each using a string mop should be thoroughly shaken. If this is done every time, the mop will be in good condition all the time.
Every so often, depending entirely on the circumstances of mop and floor, the mop should be washed in heavy suds, rinsed and dried.
Menu for Tomorrow
BREAKFAST — Grapes, ham omelet, bran muffins, coffee.
LUNCHEON — Fried green tomatoes, toasted muffins, marmalade, tea.
DINNER — Lamb chops, creamed potatoes with cheese, buttered cauliflower, peach dessert, oatmeal cookies, coffee.
My Own Recipes
If a few tablespoons of chopped ham are added to plain omelet, the dish has a more decided taste. Or a cream sauce may be made. The ham added to the sauce and the whole poured over the omelet. This provides moisture and puts more milk in the diet.

$50,000 FIRE IN BIG STEEL PLANT

Believe Lightning Caused Spectacular Blaze in Milwaukee Friday.

Milwaukee.—A spectacular fire, of undetermined origin, destroyed the cleaning room and damaged the foundry of the Crucible Steel Casting company, 812 Clinton street, early Friday night. The loss is estimated by Chief Thomas A. Clancy and Albert C. Lange, first vice president of the company, at $50,000.

The fire was discovered by a passer-by at 8:41 o'clock. A second alarm was sounded, bringing four additional engine companies and two truck companies to the scene.

At 7:15 o'clock the roof on the cleaning room collapsed. No one was injured. The fire was under control at 7:45 o'clock.

Hundreds of persons were attracted to the blaze, which could be seen from downtown streets. A squad of patrolmen was sent to the fire from the Fourth precinct station to keep the crowds at a safe distance.

Although the origin of the fire could not be determined Friday night, it is believed by residents in the neighborhood that the building was struck by lightning.

SIX INJURED WHEN STORM WRECKS HOME

Superior.—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Peterson of the town of Maple were severely injured, and their four children cut and bruised when their home at Lake Scene Colony was destroyed by a hurricane.

The gale lifted the building from the foundation and knocked it over. Flying timbers and glass injured the occupants. A number of other buildings in the vicinity were demolished.

Damage amounting to several thousand dollars resulted during the storm, which brought the heaviest rainfall of the season. More than three and one-half inches of rain fell during twelve hours, and many houses were damaged by wind and water. Lightning struck in more than a dozen places.

The downpour virtually put an end to the prospect of forest fires in this county.

FAMILY TOSSED FROM BED BY BLAST'S FORCE

Fond du Lac.—The home of H. C. Gaudette, 140 Dix street, was wrecked and the occupants had a narrow escape from death early on Thursday, when unknown parties exploded a bomb in front of the dwelling.

Slugs of lead and steel splattered over the residences in the neighborhood. The veranda and front steps of the Gaudette home were ripped and shattered. The entire city was shaken by the report.

Police ascertained that three men were seen fleeing west on Dix street just before the explosion took place. Quantities of waste paper used to wrap the bomb were found scattered about, while a length of fuse twelve inches long was found nearby. The bomb had been fashioned from a piece of steel pipe.

APPLE PROSPECTS ARE BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

(Special to Post-Crescent)
The Wisconsin commercial apple crop prospect increased 14,000 barrels during September, according to Joseph A. Becker, of the Wisconsin Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. Conditions for growth and ripening of late apples were excellent during the month and the crop is larger than anticipated earlier in the year.

Production is now forecasted at 174,000 barrels, compared to 160,000 a month ago, and a final production of 124,000 barrels in 1919 and 114,000 in 1918. Condition on October 1 indicated a production of 62 per cent of a full crop compared to 57 on September 1 and 46 a year ago.

Condition in Door County is estimated at 78 per cent; Bayfield, 80; Crawford and Vernon, 80; Sauk, 52; and Richland, 50.

A severe hail storm in Door County caused a large decrease in the prospective shipments of table stock from that county, and much of the crop will be canned or manufactured into cider. Reports from all parts of the state indicate that much fruit will not be picked because of low prices prevailing for the fruit and the high price of barrels. A great deal of fruit will unquestionably be shipped in bulk for this reason.

It is estimated that 48.7 per cent of the crop will be sold for fresh fruit, 18.3 manufactured and 33.0 left on the farm for home consumption, fed to livestock or wasted.

Price to producers averages $1.82 per bushel for late apples, ranging from $1.50 to $2.10 per bushel. Apples for older are bringing from 40c to 60c per bushel in bulk.

There will be a dance at the Stephenville auditorium Thursday evening, Oct. 21. Holzer's Novelty Orchestra of Oshkosh will furnish music.

HAS SUCCESS IN TREATING SHOCK

Badger Doctor Earns Appreciation of Wisconsin Medical Society.

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—Dr. William F. Lorenz, director of the Wisconsin Psychiatric Institute, in connection with the State Hospital for the Insane, at Mendota, is having singular success in the treatment of the shell shocked soldiers who have been sent there for treatment. Dr. Lorenz, who is in charge of this most important work, was Major in command of the 127th Field Hospital Company on duty in France with the Thirty-Second Division.

The United States government, through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, is sending all shell shocked and demented soldiers whose service originated in Wisconsin to the Mendota institution. The State Board of Control has provided adequate room in which these soldiers are kept by which these, has provided buildings in which they are given vocational training, and the Wisconsin Service Recognition Board is paying a per capita to the Director of the Psychiatric Institute who has charge of their care.

To show its appreciation of the thorough work of caring for these unfortunate men, the State Medical Society, at its recent meeting unanimously adopted the following resolution:

"The State Medical Society of Wisconsin in convention assembled, in deers the work of the Wisconsin Psychiatric Institute in the care of former soldiers suffering from mental derangement, and voices its appreciation of the Service Recognition Board in making available funds for this purpose, and of the Board of Control in its policy of rehabilitation of these unfortunate victims of the late war."

The Moors are credited with having introduced cotton manufacturing into London in 1590.

TANLAC DISPLAY MAKES GREAT HIT

Unique and Attractive Display of Celebrated Medicine Attracts Much Attention.

An advertising display which has attracted unusual interest, has been placed in the show-window of the Voigt's Drug Store, on College Ave., in this city, the local agency for the well-known and highly successful proprietary medicine, Tanlac.

The display is not only interesting from an advertising standpoint, but is educational, combining in an attractive and artistic manner beautiful scenes from many foreign countries where the ingredients of this preparation are obtained.

It has occasioned such favorable comment in the city that the proprietors of the store state that it will remain in their window several days longer.

Work of Great Artist

The display is the work of one of America's greatest lithographic artists and the manufacturers of Tanlac state that the total cost will exceed sixty thousand dollars, which is said to be a record price for window displays. It is in ten distinct and natural colors, and presents scenes from the Rocky Mountains, as well as from Europe, Asia, Peru, Egypt and other foreign countries.

The natives are seen in their natural habitat and environment, gathering the roots, herbs and barks that form the medicinal ingredients of Tanlac, packing them upon the backs of camels, elephants, llamas and other beasts of burden for transportation by land and sea to the immense laboratories at Dayton, Ohio, and Walkerville, Canada.

One of the most striking features of the display is the reproduction of the magnificent laboratory at Dayton. Here the artist has very effectively and impressively portrayed the popularity of Tanlac by introducing a group of people in all walks of life, who are looking at the Tanlac laboratory with expressions of confidence, plainly indicating their belief and faith in the medicine.

Another distinctive feature is the bulletins accompanying the display. They tell briefly and concisely of the marvelous growth and development of Tanlac, until today it has the largest sale of any medicine of its kind in the world. These bulletins also quote various standard medical authorities as to the therapeutic value and physiological effect of the medicine.

60,000 Bottles a Day
From these bulletins one also learns that the new Tanlac laboratories at Dayton and Walkerville have a combined daily capacity of 60,000 bottles and that the medicine is now selling at the rate of approximately 10,000,000 bottles per year.

That Tanlac is a preparation of exceptional merit has never been disputed, which accounts for its tremendous popularity and large sales throughout the country. It is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder and has a far reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system. Many strong local endorsements, from those who testify as to the benefit they receive, have appeared in the columns of this paper.

The manufacturers of Tanlac are firm believers in newspaper advertising and have forcibly presented to the public the merits of their product in this way. Their total annual appropriation for newspaper space exceeds one million dollars. Their copy appears in practically all of the leading daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States and Canada.

Tanlac is sold in Appleton by John E. Voigt, F. D. Brown, Shiocton; Dr. J. M. Sattler, Bear Creek; H. E. Ahnd, Dale, R. E. Lowell, Little, Chute, adv.

LA CROSSE CAR LINE WANTS HIGHER FARES

La Crosse, Wis.—Carl D. Jackson of the railroad commission held a hearing in La Crosse to ascertain the earnings of the street car system operated in this city by the Wisconsin Railway, Light and Power company. The state board of conciliation has recommended increases in wages for motor men and conductors, and officials of the utility maintain that if granted it must be allowed increases in fares. Six cents is now the fare here.

Five hundred and ninety complaints of poor gas service in La Crosse, forwarded to the railroad commission, prompted the state board to send a service expert to investigate the plant and equipment of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power company. The company claims the increased load of business is responsible for the poor pressure in the mains and is installing a booster pump.

FIND FORTUNE IN HOBBO'S CLOTHES

Sam Haack, From Nowhere, Saved His Money Against Infirmities of Age.

Monroe, Wis.—A hobo with a small fortune pinned in his clothes was brought in by Officer Edward Keehn. He was found in the hay mow of the Henry Baker barn three and one-half miles southeast of Twin Grove. He was nicely comfortable upon an improvised bed of grain sacks and contentedly smoking a cigar, when Mr. Baker located him. When he refused to leave the barn, the officers here were called and Mr. Keehn brought him in.

He has all the appearance of a hobo minus the cigar. His clothes were whole but worn and he walks the roads and sleeps where night overtakes him, apparently, but carried a small fortune in pockets and securely pinned under coat or vest or inside the legs of his trousers.

Carried $1,500 Cash
When searched at the jail a small bag of money was found beneath the right arm near the shoulder, another small bag was found beneath the left arm in about the same location and there were little "wads" inside the shirt, but down in the trouser legs was the bulk of the fortune. Two packages were found in one leg and one larger than either of these in the other.

The cash taken off him amounted to $1,500. There were two deposit bank checks, one on an Illinois bank and the other on a Dakota bank, of $300 and $400. There was a $100 Liberty bond and other negotiable papers and cash and all footed up to $2,362.61. He gave the officer his name as Sam Haack and said he was from anywhere.

Saved His Money
Haack, upon being briefly questioned, stated he had earned the money and that it was the accumulation of years in which he had practiced economy in way of living and carefully saved his money. The officers tried to get out of him why he banked part, a small part, of his savings and carried the large portion upon his person. There was $700 in deposit checks and over $1,500 or exactly $1,500 in silver and bills in denominations of $1 to $50.

Haack will be questioned further and in the meantime local officers will try and get some line on him by communicating with the banks where the certificates say he has a deposit and will try and find where he has worked to make the comfortable little fortune he carries.

MORE INTEREST IN GRID BATTLES

Fans Are Beginning to Wake Up to Championship Possibilities Here.

Appleton interest in football is increasing as the 1920 season progresses. While the fans have been turning out en masse to the games there has been little football talk around town, due in a large measure to the earliness of the season and the recent world series baseball battle. Devotees, however, are beginning to take more active interest and indications are that record breaking crowds will see the big games this year.

Lawrence college students are showing a strange apathy toward their team. Only a few dozen saw the men off to battle Beloit Friday morning and there is little enthusiasm at the college. This is probably due to the fact that the college team has not made much of a showing thus far this year but if it can wallop Beloit today it is probable that interest will increase.

Appleton fans as a general thing are pinning their hopes on the high school team which is a contender for the state championship. An immense crowd is expected to see the boys' game this afternoon and more than 200 will go with the boys to Marinette next Saturday.

MILWAUKEE STAR TO MEET FREEMAN

Richie Mitchell Is Scheduled to Meet Bitter Enemy at East Chicago.

Chicago.—East Chicago and Milwaukee are going to clash week after next with big lightweight boxing shows. They will not collide on the same night, but it's almost as bad. The Indiana town will seek the patronage of the glove fan Monday night, the 23th, while the Wisconsin metropolis will go to bat on the following evening.

George Oswego, East Chicago promoter, and Dick Curley, the energetic matchmaker for that club, announced that Richie Mitchell and Sallor Freeman, old and bitter enemies, will perform in their open air arena under powerful arc lights on the Monday night mentioned above. This will be East Chicago's first night show.

Mitchell, being a Milwaukee boy, may not have liked the idea of Frank Mulken using Joe Weiling against Lew Tandler on the 26th in his home town Auditorium. Anyway, Richie and Brother Bill, his manager, were cornered in Chicago by the East Chicago people on their way home from Philadelphia, where Rich and Weiling had a great mixup Monday night, and induced to listen to Dick Curley's proposition. The match is on. So is the other one.

According to Mrs. Marquard, who obtained a divorce from Rube here on grounds of desertion, a star in any profession should look to a lesor light for a mate.

"I don't believe two celebrities can have a happy life," she said. "Both are so big that neither can care enough about the other's success. Both are temperamental and they can't work a combination."

National League Magnates Consider New Governing Body for Game.

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—Decision to force a change in the governing body of baseball has been made by the eight National league clubs, according to President John Heydler today.

Heydler leaves for Chicago tonight, where the American league magnates have been invited to meet Monday with the National league owners and discuss the abolishment of the national commission.

"Despite the objection of President Ban Johnson, of the American league, we are going through with the meeting," Heydler said.

"All of the National league clubs will be represented at the meeting. I don't know the feeling of the American league, but I can't see how they can refuse to accept the invitation of the National league to discuss the changes that seem necessary to keep the game alive."

Prohibition Is Menaced

To the Editor of The Post-Crescent: Permit me to say through your columns that there is urgent need that some ringing word be spoken at once about the growing danger to prohibition throughout the country. There is a new campaign of advertising all over the land, our own city included, pushing beer or wine made by the original process and as good as ever. The brewers are testing out the feeling of the country, to see if they can nullify the constitutional prohibition amendment, as the thirteenth amendment, enfranchising the negro, is practically nullified in some parts of the south.

Ex-President Taft says that while he opposed the prohibition amendment, he believes that to reintroduce beer and light wines, and with them the saloons, would reduce the amendment to a farce; that we could not possibly then keep stronger liquor out of the saloons.

Both the great political parties have deliberately dodged the issue. Both platforms and both candidates in their public speeches say, "We promise to enforce the law, the Volstead act, while it stands." They do not say a word promising to maintain that law, as it stands. They have carefully left the door wide open for their followers to work against the enforcing law, to repeal it, and so to nullify the amendment.

Therefore the liquor men the country over are now taking the aggressive and prove that the American people don't really want prohibition. As a prominent official of the Liquor Dealers' association said recently, "The fight is to be taken into politics."

We, who believe in prohibition and in upholding the constitution are tempted to be passive and quiescent. If we do that the amendment will be nullified and the saloons will be back again.

On the contrary our duty is to take the offensive, too. We must keep vigilant about the facts, especially in our own city. We must spend money to ascertain the facts and to see to it that the law is not evaded. Especially just now we must vote for "dry" men for every public office, whatever their political party. Let us back our Anti-Saloon league and the officials who are enforcing the law; and not let a single "wet" man be elected to the legislature or to congress, if we can help it. Most other issues are more or less befuddled. This one is perfectly clear.

JINX KEEPS OSS OUT OF HOOSIER GRID GAME

By United Press Leased Wire
St. Paul.—Gopher hopes of beating Indiana on Northern gridiron today were pretty shaky when football fans learned that Arnold Oss would not be permitted to go into the line-up because of injuries to his jinx knee. Coach Williams is saving Oss from further possible injuries in view of the Wisconsin, Illinois and Michigan games to come.

The Indiana squad, with a 200 pound line, looked like tough business for the Gophers.

PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

A Size and Style for Every Home

FROM the simplest and most inexpensive cabinet to the magnificent period models, The Brunswick comes in a range of prices, sizes and finishes.

All are Brunswick-built—the creations of a famous organization of wood craftsmen. No finer cabinets are to be found. The carving and the finish are superb.

But all this—while important—is secondary. The Brunswick Method of Reproduction is the chief attraction. For tone is what one buys in a phonograph.

Brunswick tone is infinitely better because of the several improvements included in the Brunswick Method of Reproduction.

First, there is the Ultona, an all-record reproducer. At a turn of the hand it presents the proper needle and proper diaphragm to each type of record. No attachment is necessary. The Ultona brings the finest reproduction, playing each make of record exactly as intended and bringing out its finest shadings.

Another feature is the Brunswick Tone Amplifier, built entirely of wood. There is no cast-metal throat.

This amplifier is built to conform to acoustic laws. Tone waves vibrate properly, unconfined. So foreign noises are absent.

These are but two of the superiorities of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction. But the tone betterments are apparent the instant you hear The Brunswick, whether you know the features or not.

Come in today and hear this super-phonograph. You've never heard such phonographic music before. It will be a revelation.

ANOTHER BREAK IN PRICE OF WHEAT

Heavy Selling Orders Depress Market Four and Five Cents.

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Wheat prices declined sharply today on the Chicago board of trade when large selling orders came into the market from local and eastern traders. Wheat led the decline with prices of from four to five cents. Provisions also slumped in sympathy with the grains.
December wheat after opening at $2.18, up 1/2¢, closed off 1/2¢. March wheat was off 1/2¢ at the opening, $2.11 1/2, and lost an additional four and half at the close.

TRADING SLOW ON NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—The New York Evening Sun's financial review today said: "Trading was slow and price changes rather unimportant in today's short session of the stock market. There was no particular trend to the list at any time; indeed movements were mixed from the beginning. The list became reactionary toward the closing with a few features of pronounced weakness. Sears, Roebuck, was pressed down more than five points. Reading first and second preferred lost about half of their earlier gains of four to six points. The support of the short interest seemed to have been wholly withdrawn and the market was left to drift."

CONVINCED THAT SAILSTAD LIVES

Authorities Begin World Wide Search for Missing Eau Claire Man.

By United Press Leased Wire
Superior, Wis.—The Sallstad mystery today settled down to an international hunt.
Authorities are bent on proving beyond all doubt whether Edward J. Sallstad, of Eau Claire, is alive or dead.
Numerous turns have developed to indicate strongly that he is alive—and that the bones found in the burned ruins of his cottage on Lake Nebagamon last August were "planted" there to cover his disappearance simultaneously with his beautiful secretary, Miss Dorothy Anderson, known in Chicago as the "Sunshine Girl."
Reports flew thick and fast today that Sallstad had been located. One report was that he was found in Duluth, another said he was in Honolulu and still another said he and Miss Anderson had been located in Portland, Oregon.
Sallstad's wife, Leona, said she will not believe he is alive until she sees him. Her husband left $50,000 insurance which she expected to collect.
Superior, Wis.—Until an early hour Saturday morning Duluth authorities had failed to apprehend E. J. Sallstad, despite their declaration on Friday that they knew the whereabouts of the man who was supposed to have lost his life in the fire which destroyed his summer home in Lake Nebagamon on the night of Aug. 26.
Although Chief of Police A. G. Plakett would make no statement regarding the progress of the hunt for Sallstad Friday night, it became known that several persons have reported seeing Sallstad in Duluth during the last month, and that a woman whose name is being carefully guarded, came to the office on Friday and reported that she had seen Sallstad, whom she knows, on the street with her in the last few days and that she had followed him to a rooming house.
That Sallstad is the victim of a gigantic plot to rob him of over $100,000 upon which he was known to have been working, is the belief of

Gertrude Smith of Menasha is visiting in Appleton.

Miss Estella Sallstad, sister of the missing man.

"If my brother is not dead he certainly must be bewitched by the Anderson woman," she said Friday night.
"I don't think she loved him, but I feel that she is after his money and is probably trying to learn from him the secret of the new patent on which he was working at the time of his disappearance. I hardly think she wants it herself, but she probably is the tool of some one who does."

She declared that Sallstad is the holder of valuable patents which are now being used on Multitone phonographs, the product of the Multitone company of Eau Claire, of which Sallstad was president.
Officials of the Multitone company are said to have been experimenting with the latest of Sallstad's inventions. But the nature of the invention was not made known.
